Message From the Mayor: Sam Thompson

This year begins with a number of changes in Delaware Township. The retirement of 2 long-serving municipal employees will cause the Township's administration to change the way the office conducts the Township's business, with new faces and new processes.

The fight against the PennEast pipeline continues as we work directly with landowners who stand up to protect their land and our drinking water. Finally, new leadership in Trenton will certainly bring opportunities (in particular, a stronger opposition statewide to the pipeline) and challenges.

Despite all of these challenges, I believe the Township Committee can accomplish a number of projects that will provide direct, positive impact to the residents of Delaware Township. Among those projects are:

- * A long overdue refresh of Township website
- * Completing the integration of all of the Township ordinances in to one cross-referenced document and posting it to the Township website, in a searchable format
- * Finalizing the last section of sidewalk in Sergeantsville, completing the evacuation route for DTS
- * Rehabilitating the paths in Dilt's Park

I also expect to continue the restart of our road maintenance program which began last year.

As you can see, there is a tremendous amount of work to be done but we want to make sure that we do not overlook any other concerns that you may have. We value your input, whether directly at our meetings or through contacting us on an individual basis. As well, please know that there are always opportunities to volunteer your time and talents so that we can accomplish these ambitious goals.

Thank you. It is both an honor and a powerful privilege to serve as your mayor this year.

-- Sam Thompson

Meet Your Neighbor: River Valley Dental

by Mary Coffey

As I entered the River Valley Dental office in Sergeantsville, Mark Bydalek's dental team and his wife Maureen warmly greeted me as if I was welcomed into their home. Mark Bydalek celebrates his 30th anniversary practicing dentistry in 2018. Also a talented artist (he has a breathtakingly beautiful collection of detailed, delicate wildlife drawings), he brings to dentistry not only precision but an eye and commitment to maintaining the natural beauty of teeth, with great attention to patient care.

Mark is one of three sons of a woman from Den Haag, Netherlands. She met his Dad, an American Air Force dentist, while he was stationed in Germany. Mark was born in California and lived throughout the U.S. until his Dad retired from the military and they settled in the Philadelphia area.

Mark met his wife Maureen at the Jersey shore. While visiting Beach Haven, they met on the beach and continued their relationship in Philadelphia as he attended Temple University and she attended the Philadelphia College of Textiles and Science. They dated for eight years while Mark completed his doctorate and Maureen worked in New York City in the fashion industry. They married in 1988 and live on Maureen's family farm in Kingwood Township.

After a year of working in Phillipsburg, Mark began to look for a location for his own practice. Driving home from the Philadelphia Airport, the Bydalek's noticed a "For Rent" sign in a window in downtown Sergeantsville. Chuckling Mark recalls his first patient vividly. "Before opening my business, my brothers and their wives came to help us update the interior. We had put a "Dentist Soon" sign out front, and as we were painting the reception area, a woman urgently needing a dentist to fix her broken tooth walks in. We had not moved the equipment in yet so I had her sit on a bench in our reception area facing the sunlight as I mixed materials and gave her a temporary filling! My brothers painted around her! She continues to be a patient to this day and one of my fondest."

The Bydalek's have two children, Addie and Ian, and together they work the family farm. Maureen designs, using their llama fiber to create blankets and table linens for private sale. They sell hay to horse and sheep farms as well as a local CSA. Mark values the balance of his two passions, working in half millimeters by day in the dental office and with farm equipment on nights and weekends.

His daughter mentions that Mark was offered a scholarship for art school, but chose dentistry because of his intrigue with the medicine combined with the "art" of the practice. This is why he continues to enjoy his profession and especially cosmetic dentistry. "There is an art in reproducing what is natural both in shape and color. No two patients are the same and it is a challenge to match personality with smile design." In addition, he values taking an integral role in his patient's overall wellness. While few think of their dentist as playing that critical role in their healthcare, dentistry has come a long way. Today we understand that the overall health of your mouth, teeth, and gums can play a role in maintaining health throughout the body.

Mark mentions the sincere admiration he has for his team. Everyone's job has evolved as the practice continues to grow with the implementation of new technology, science and "best practice" protocol. This long-standing, trusted, group make it a comfortable, pleasant and safe place to receive care.

Daughter, Addie, now works as the Wellness Director in the business. Her degree is in Health and Bio-Medical Sciences. She is a professional nutritionist, personal trainer and licensed massage therapist. "With the addition of Addie to our team we are continuing to reinforce our commitment to our patients to support their overall wellness goals".

Why Sergeantsville? Mark responds, "It is with great personal satisfaction and my privilege to share what I believe is the best care and the latest technology for dental health to a community that deserves the best. Look at where we live – nothing less than extraordinary – and look at our neighbors – hard working, engaged, interesting and nice people. When I bought this beloved Higgins' farmhouse, my goal was to blend in, not change the footprint of the house or the community in which I work, but to add an understated level of care to the community, one smile at a time."

Tree Tips

As the days lengthen and spring returns to Delaware Township, it's the perfect time to do some spring tree maintenance before the summer season begins. Take a walk and look for any damaged or dangerous limbs that may have resulted from winter storms.

Without any leaves to obscure the view it is much easier to see damage. Remove broken and dead branches with sharp pruners or a saw. It is not necessary to treat the wood with pruning paint. It is probably worth contacting a tree service for large jobs or overhead work.

Spring is also a good time to renew mulch around tree bases, but be careful to avoid "mulch volcanoes" around the tree base. Mulch should be around 3 inches deep and away from the trunk to avoid insect damage and rot. Always follow fertilizer directions and place around the dripline of the tree, never against the trunk.

A warm spring afternoon of maintenance can go a long way towards safe and healthy trees for the rest of the year.

Reading School House Restoration

The Delaware Township Historical Society together with the Township's Historical Advisory Committee is working on plans for the restoration of the Reading School House (also known as the Wescott House).

The groups have decided to restore the school house to the 1940's time period. To assist in this effort, the groups are interested in speaking to anyone who attended the school, and would like copies of any old photographs to assist in the restoration.

In addition, as plans progress volunteers will be needed to assist with various phases of the restoration. If you have information or would like to help, please contact Chuck Taylor at 908 284-4735 or Marilyn Cummings at 397-5363.

Pipeline Update

At the end of January, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) approved the PennEast pipeline with a list of 88 conditions. Although disappointing, this was not unexpected since in its entire history, FERC has only denied two pipelines. While residents now must grapple with having their properties condemned, the pipeline fight moves to the State level.

The pipeline cannot be constructed without several State permits, none of which have yet been obtained. In fact, the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has recently stated that it has no application pending since the application submitted was seriously deficient and cancelled. The Township will continue to provide comments on the pipeline to DEP, and work with and support our residents as this new process gets underway.

"What's Wrong with Bamboo?"

By Dr. Roger R. Locandro

There are over 1,000 species of "bamboo." Bamboo grows everywhere and anywhere. Bamboo has been listed as one of the most obnoxious and invasive plants in the world, and it grows profusely throughout our township.

Bamboo was brought to North America by people who wanted to sell plants that were uniquely different and easy to grow. To many people bamboo is indeed beautiful and different and it is easy to grow-- too easy!

Bamboo is extremely invasive, will thrive most anywhere, and will rapidly out-compete other plants. It will invade streams and shut them down. It is very hard to get rid of with chemicals or cultivation. It can grow around and through buildings and become so densely crowded that it provides little habitat for wildlife.

The bottom line is that bamboo is very invasive, destructive, and hard to control. Some states and municipalities have regulated or even banned the sale of bamboo. Connecticut has actually made planting and maintaining bamboo a criminal act.

Bills to regulate bamboo in New Jersey languish, although some towns are working on ordinances. As of now it is up to individual property owners to avoid planting bamboo and to find ways to control bamboo they find on their land with the help of County Extension agents and other plant specialists.

Open Space Update and Invitation

Open Space preservation in Delaware Township in 2017 had a year of highs and lows. The long process of purchasing the Reimer property in order to expand Dilts Park had just been celebrated when the news of the sudden passing of Coordinator Jim Borders brought great sadness. His dedicated service to many causes made Delaware Township a better place to live. He serves as an inspiration to keep Delaware Township's long history of land preservation going.

If you or anyone you know has interest in preserving their own piece of the Township, the Hunterdon County Planning Department has set a deadline of April 26 for the spring round of applications for preservation. Please contact Bob Hornby at OpenSpaceDT@gmail.com or stop by the Town Hall on Wednesdays for more information.
