November Referendum Question

In Delaware Township, the November ballot will include a question regarding the future use of the Township's Open Space Trust Fund. Three times over the past 25 years, Township residents voted to tax themselves to create an Open Space Trust Fund specifically to purchase land and easements to preserve farms and open space, and to pay debt service on bonds used to preserve farms and open space properties.

The 2021 ballot question asks if residents agree to expand the use of the Open Space Trust Fund to include development and improvement of municipal lands solely for recreation and conservation purposes. It would allow up to 1 cent (from the existing 6 cents) to be available for these purposes. The recreation and conservation purposes discussed by the Township Committee relate to improvements at Dilts Farm Park, and other lands currently owned, or that may be acquired in the future, for recreation and conservation purposes.

Currently, one cent equals approximately $80,485.

The question in its entirety, and the interpretive statement that accompanies it can be viewed on the Township website at www.delawaretpnj.org

Girl Scout Crop Share Box

Girl Scout Troop 80372 is establishing a crop share box as their Bronze award project. The location is on the municipal parking lot Green, behind the payment collection box.

The troop members will maintain the site and will advertise on Facebook, sharing what produce is available. Composting of expiring produce will be behind the box. Compost will also be for the community. The project aims to promote sustainability and community outreach to those in need. You need not contribute to enjoy the produce available.

Meet Your Neighbor: Robb Sussna

by Sally Gullette

Robb Sussna is at a point in his life where he wants to just paint, travel, and relax. When you learn what he's done and accomplished you can understand why.

So who is Robb Sussna? He and his wife Debby have been married for 60 years and have lived in the Township for more than 30 years. They have a son, who is a global information technology expert and a grandson who is a mechanical engineer.

Robb is an award-winning large format photographer, traveled on a NJ Arts Council Fellowship to Europe, the West and Canada and has had one-man exhibitions at NJ State, Hoboken and Newark museums. He is also a very accomplished water color artist. He loves water color "for its exquisite ability to utilize strong, rich colors or the palest most delicate washes that are almost not there." His paintings have been in more than fifty juried exhibitions including locally at the Ellarslie Annual Open and juried art exhibitions in Lambertville, New Hope and Phillip's Mill. He has had several one person shows and has received numerous awards for his paintings. He teaches water color both privately and through the New Hope-Solebury Community School.

He began a career in architecture after graduation from Cornell in 1963 followed by an internship in New York City. He started his own firm with an office in Princeton and later in New York City. He specialized in modernist commercial design and worked with numerous Fortune 500 corporate clients both locally and across the country. His work included hospitals, prisons, medical buildings and corporate cafeterias but what he most enjoyed was designing research laboratories. He completed thirty-five projects for Princeton University including a major re-vitalization of the Engineering College. "I thrived on the pressure, and loved the challenges of major projects" he said. Robb has also been a visiting lecturer in Architecture at Columbia University Graduate School of Education and an adjunct professor of Interior and Environmental Design at the College of New Jersey. He was listed in Who's Who in America, 1995 and Who's Who in Science & Engineering, 1993. He and his wife Debby designed their home which was given an award of Merit in Design from the American Institute of Architects.

Robb also volunteered his time for eight years on the New Jersey Supreme Court Lawyers Ethics Committee.

This man with the sensitivity of an artist also loves motorcycles. For ten years he raced in the Middle Atlantic Region with Debby as his pit crew. He loved every minute of the competition. He and Debby have also vacationed 2-up throughout the Alps, Canada and the West.

Robb and Debby included skiing among their many activities, carving their way down many mountains throughout Europe and the U.S. They also spent many vacations sailing the high seas around Maine, in the Caribbean and almost to the coast of Venezuela.

Traveling is an important part of Robb and Debby's lives and they take frequent trips to Italy and the Caribbean. And at the end, they have their wonderful house in the woods to come home to.

Shredder Day: September 25

The shredder day is scheduled for Saturday, Sep. 25, rain or shine, at the Township Garage at 816 Sergeantsville Road, from 8am to 11am or until the truck is full. Please arrive before 10:45 am. Services provided by IntelliSHRED.

The shredder used for residents' documents accommodates sizeable quantities of documents, easier than using an ordinary shredder which has to be fed in small quantities. IntelliSHRED uses a pierce-and-tear shredding system. This system tears the paper at the fiber instead of cutting it. This results in a random and more secure shred size than standard strip-cut shredders. Certificates of destruction are available to every client certifying that the materials have been shredding process through a closed-circuit monitor mounted on the truck.

NO need to remove staples or paper clips. Please do NOT bring materials to be shredded in any type of plastic, or plastic bags. If possible bring in a paper bag, which can be shredded.

LIMIT: 10 boxes per vehicle

Recipe: Scotch Collops

Original Recipe c. 1854

Cut some very thin slices of beef; rub with butter the bottom of an iron stew-pan that has a cover to fit quite closely; put in the meat, some pepper, and a little salt, a large onion and an apple minced very small. Cover the stew pan, and let it simmer till the meat is very tender. Serve it hot.

-- The Cooks Own Book
Mrs. N. K. M. Lee – 1854

Modern Recipe

2-3 lbs. Beef (you can also use Venison or Veal)
2 Large Onions
3 Apples*
Salt and Pepper
2 Tbsp. Butter, or more

1. Prepare ingredients. Peel, core and slice apples. Peel, half and slice onions thinly. Slice beef against the grain into thin slices, or collops.
2. Heat a deep skillet, with a lid, over medium-high heat; a Dutch oven works particularly well. Once skillet is hot, add 2 Tbsp. of butter and let melt.
3. Brown beef in skillet, taking caution to not crowd the pan; salt and pepper to taste. Remove beef as it browns and set aside.
4. Once all the beef has been browned reduce heat to medium and add onion slices. Cook, stirring occasionally, until onions begin to caramelize. Add more butter if pan is dry. Salt and pepper to taste.
5. Add apple slices to pan with onions and cook until apples start to soften, stirring occasionally.
6. Return beef to the pan and stir to combine. Reduce heat to low, cover pan, and let stew, stirring occasionally. The apples should produce plenty of moisture, but if the pan is dry add a bit more butter or water a Tbsp. at a time.
7. Let stew for 20 minutes to an hour (or more!). The apples and onions will continue to break down and produce a sweet and savory sauce for the beef.
8. Serve hot. Enjoy!

*You can use 2 additional Onions instead of using 3 Apples

Add ½ cup Red Wine and ½ the juice from a medium Lemon. Cook until reduced. To thicken, roll the butter in flour first.

George Washington enjoyed a variation of this dish with mushrooms. Feel free to add 1 Cup of Sliced White Button Mushrooms at this step.

Pipeline Update

As you may recall, the State of New Jersey refused to allow PennEast to condemn State property and this was upheld by a Federal Court. However, PennEast appealed and the case was heard by the U.S. Supreme Court. The question before the Court was whether PennEast, a private company, could use eminent domain to take State property. The Court in a split 5 to 4 decision ruled that the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) could convey its right of eminent domain to a private company thereby giving a private company the right to take State (and private) property.

While the decision was disappointing, the Court did not approve the pipeline. The pipeline is still subject to State laws and no approvals have been granted by the Delaware River Basin Commission nor the State of New Jersey's Department of Environmental Protection.

Further, PennEast had asked FERC to allow it to separate its application into two pieces decoupling the approved Pennsylvania portions from the remainder, which is contrary to their original application which clearly indicated this was one project. FERC has not responded to this request.

Finally, on August 10, 2021 the Pennsylvania newspaper "The Morning Call" reported that PennEast says it is "temporarily" stopping its eminent domain actions in Pennsylvania citing uncertainty in the timing of obtaining all necessary approvals for the pipeline. While this is good news for the people along the pipeline route in Pennsylvania, it is unclear what this means regarding the pipeline overall.

Well Water Test Kits

The Delaware Township Environmental Commission and the Raritan Headwaters Association (RHA) are co-sponsoring a community well-testing program for homeowners to test their drinking water for chemical and biological contaminants.

While many of us know our blood pressure, cholesterol and sugar levels, do you know the levels of coliform bacteria, arsenic and other contaminants in your drinking water? When was the last time you had your well water tested? Unlike public drinking water systems, private wells are not checked for contamination before the water is sent to the tap. Households that use private wells must take special precautions to ensure the safety of their drinking water supplies.

Safe drinking water is essential to good health, and testing well water at a certified lab is the only way to know whether water from a private well is safe. Testing your well water for chemical and biological contamination is important since many contaminants can be harmful, even though they are tasteless and odorless. Nitrates and bacteria, which can lead to immediate and serious health conditions, may be found in well water as a result of a poorly performing septic system or a nearby agricultural source. Two naturally occurring elements, arsenic and radon, are also commonly found in well water in our area. Scientific studies associate long-term exposure to arsenic and radon with cancer and other health effects.

Public health authorities recommend annual testing. If your well has not been tested for several years, now is the time to test. You can sample your well water as part of this year's community well-testing program.

Water test kits are available for purchase on September 14th thru September 16th, and September 21st and September 22nd from 11:00 am to 3:00 pm at the Delaware Township Municipal Building. Well water test kits will also be available for purchase at the Delaware Township Municipal Building on September 22nd from 5:00 pm to 7:00 pm.

Please follow the current CDC Guidelines and check the Township's website prior to September 14th for any changes/updates to this year's Community Well-Testing Program.

You can order your test kit on line at www.raritanheadwaters.org/delaware/. Pay by credit card (on line only) or pay by check (no cash) when you pick up your test kit.

Sample containers and completed paperwork must be returned to the Township Department of Public Works Garage (816 Sergeantsville Rd.) on Thursday, September 23rd between 7:00 am and 9:00 am.

Residents may have their drinking water tested for coliform bacteria and nitrates for $60. Additional testing options are available. Please see "What Should I Test

My Well Water For?" on the Township's website (www.DelawareTwpNJ.org) for a complete listing of the available tests and associated prices.

For more information about RHA's well-testing program or with questions on what you should test your well water for, please call Mara Tippet at (908) 234-1852 ext. 401 or e-mail welltesting@raritanheadwaters.org.

Note that while all water samples are analyzed by a certified laboratory, sample results cannot be used to satisfy the Private Well Testing Act if you are selling or renting your home.

Environmental Commission Sponsors September Well Testing Presentation

Please join the Delaware Township Environmental Commission on Wednesday, September 15th at 7:00 pm at the Delaware Township Municipal Building to learn about your well: how to know your well water is safe to drink, what you should be sampling for and how often, potential contaminants in private wells, and anything else you may wonder about your well water.

Mara Tippet, Well Test Manager for Raritan Headwaters Association, will be providing a brief presentation on Delaware Township Community Well Testing results and an overview of the groundwater health in this area. Ms. Tippet will be available to answer your questions.

In addition, well water test kits will be available for purchase after the presentation.

Please come and join us to learn all about this important topic. Note: due to changing State and CDC Guidelines, please check the Township's website prior to September 15th for any changes/updates.

New Township Website

A lot of hard work and planning have gone into re-vamping the Township website and among those involved Deputy Clerk Tiffany Crivelli deserves a lot of credit for the amount of time and effort she has put into this project. The result is a website that is both user friendly and interactive. Among the things you can now do is download forms, look up tax information, obtain phone numbers and emails for Township officials, get election results, see the list of candidates for upcoming elections and much, much more. Go to the site, have fun and explore. There is an abundance of information available just by clicking on an entry. For example, under Departments, if you click on Construction you can download various forms, read the NJ Construction Code, find a list of projects requiring permits, and more. There are still a few glitches being resolved so if you find something amiss be patient. This has been an enormous undertaking but well worth the effort: www.DelawareTwpNJ.org

Who Was Sarah Dilts?

As people enjoy our beautiful Dilts Park, you may have been wondering, “who was Sarah Dilts?” A resident, Nancy Bond, offered to share her memories about Sarah Dilts.

Sarah Dilts was a teacher at Delaware Township School (DTS) and a neighbor in Sergeantsville. She taught at DTS from 1961 until May 1985. Her students remember Miss Dilts as a nice and helpful teacher.

An article in the Hunterdon County Democrat on May 6, 1982 tells the story of how she entered a contest from Scholastic Magazine. She was the only New Jersey winner and won a Texas Instrument Computer for her 3rd grade classroom. The father of one of her students, and students from Trenton State College trained Miss Dilts and her students how to use the computer.

She also taught her students about where we get our food, and how to make jam and other foods. She involved parents and staff in these activities. Mrs. Bond was a guest in her classroom when she was teaching the class how to grow plants for Mother’s Day gifts. Another time, Mrs. Bond was invited to speak about her family’s history at the Battle of Connecticut Farms, where a relative was wounded during the American Revolution.

While Miss Dilts never lived at the farmhouse, her older brother Foster lived there until his passing. When he passed away, the farm was inherited by his Father (Granville) and eventually by his Sister, Sarah. When Sarah Dilts passed away in 1985 at age 54, in her will, she left the farm to the Township specifically for the benefit of the children of Delaware Township. The Township Committee held public meetings in 1986 before agreeing to accept the gift and use the land as a park.

Marfy Goodspeed wrote several fascinating articles about the history of the farm and the families that owned it long before the Dilts family. For additional information and more history about the land that is now Dilts Park, please see goodspeedhistories.com

Township Approves Hiring of Park Planner

The Township Committee approved the hiring of a Park Planner to evaluate existing amenities at Dilts Park, and together with the Recreation Commission and the public, produce a plan that anticipates and incorporates future facilities. The Recreation Commission previously asked the public what amenities they would like to see added at the Park. A professional planner can use that information, and with public input help the Township evaluate existing amenities, and if new amenities are desired, whether they are appropriate and where to site them. Please check the Township website for info on participating when the planning begins.

Curtis Farm Preserved

On June 23, 2021 the New Jersey Conservation Foundation (NJCF) purchased the development rights to preserve the Curtis Farm: the last remaining unpreserved working farm in the Rosemont Valley.

The Curtis farm is adjacent to the Fisher and Plesher farms, among the first farms preserved in New Jersey in the early 1980s, at the start of the state Farmland Preservation Program.

In 2009, the Township designated the Rosemont Rural Agricultural Historic District to protect the historic viewshed of the Rosemont Valley, which encompasses agricultural land use patterns and farmsteads dating back to 18th and 19th centuries, and includes the Curtis farm.

NJCF used funding from the State Agriculture Development Committee and Hunterdon County, to acquire the development rights from owners Richard Curtis and his son, Michael Curtis. The Curtis family still owns the farm, but the 64 acres are now permanently restricted to agricultural uses. Local farmers grow hay and corn on the Curtis fields.

As reported by NJCF, landowner Richard Curtis said he was happy to see the farm preserved. “It’s been in my family for well over 100 years, and my father grew up there,” said Curtis. “I never lived there myself, but it’s always been the family farm and it’s nice to know it will be there forever. And the area still looks the way it did many years ago, which is neat.”

Delaware Township thanks the Curtis family, NJCF, Hunterdon County and the State Farmland Preservation Program for successfully completing this important preservation project.

Going Gold

September is Childhood Cancer Awareness Month and we would love to turn our community gold in support of the more than 500,000 children currently battling cancer. Our local St. Baldrick’s Foundation chapter will be sponsoring the sale of yellow light bulbs with the hope that all residents will purchase and light them on their front porches every evening for the month of September to support the most promising new research. Sale of light bulbs will begin towards the end of Summer, so please watch for news as to where you can purchase your light bulb with a minimum donation of $5. Any area business owners willing to provide a place for purchasing the bulbs, contact Linda Swackhamer at 908-303-4910.

Plans are also underway for the 9th Annual St. Baldrick’s Head-Shaving Event and Auction to be held at Sergeantsville Fire House (if current pandemic guidelines allow) on September 26, 2021 beginning at noon. To register to shave, volunteer or donate please visit: <https://www.StBaldricks.org/events/RaysOfHope21>.

Locktown Stone Church Update Fund-Raising and Concert Series

The Trustees of the Locktown Stone Church have canceled the Fall 2021 Concert Series. While some venues are able to improve ventilation and add safety measures such as barriers and social distancing, this is not possible in a small historic structure like the Locktown Stone Church. We hope to have some "pop-up concerts" in the Spring of 2022.

Though the concert series has not materialized, the Trustees have been meeting mostly through Zoom, and planning improvements to the Church. The Friends of the Locktown Stone Church Board of Trustees have approved a Capital Campaign to raise $240,000.00 for the design and construction of a much needed "Visitors Amenities" building on the site of, and replacing, a carriage shed that once adjoined the church.

The structure will house wheelchair accessible washrooms, and a multi-functional room (with kitchenette) to support events including weddings, meetings and concerts. Together with a covered outdoor storage bay, the entire building will resemble the historic carriage shed in form and design.

As part of this construction, the Church Building will also be included to establish ADA accessibility between the building and the restrooms. A two-year long fundraising campaign is anticipated and we hope to plan fundraisers once it is safely possible.

To participate in the fundraising campaign, or wish to become a trustee of the Friends of the Locktown Stone Church, please email: info@locktownstonechurch.org.
